Autumn Intensive Course Details

Autumn Intensive

14-19 YEARS

Course Fee: £195

About the course

Rambert School Autumn Intensive offers aspiring dancers the chance to take part in a 3-day intensive training programme designed to deepen technical understanding and support creative expression, helping to prepare ahead of vocational auditions.

Delivered by faculty, alumni and associated artists of Rambert School, participants are given the opportunity to immerse themselves in the professional training world and given insight into the audition room. Through a daily class schedule, students will expand their technical awareness, develop their creative response and discuss audition and interview techniques to support them through the process, whilst maintaining their individual voice.

Typical day

Students will take daily ballet and contemporary technique classes, complimented by sessions in pointe, ballet repertoire, conditioning, improvisation and creative work underpinning the School's 50/50 focus on ballet and contemporary. Additional sessions delivered are musicality and audition and interview technique, solo support and the chance to ask Rambert School staff and students questions about vocational training and beyond.

Faculty

Classes will be led by Rambert School's faculty and alumni as well as guest teachers, with technique classes accompanied by live musicians.

Requirements

Students must be at least 14 years (in school Year 10+) and be planning on auditioning for full-time vocational dance training.
