COURSE OUTLINE: Continues on next page)	The MA Dance Research for Professional Practitioners aims to develop a body of informed practitioners within mainstream dance companies and vocational schools, a sector of dance that is under-represented in the postgraduate and academic sector, alongside a body of potential practitioner-researchers who have worked in that sector. The course is designed to apply Practice Led Enquiry as a principal mode of investigation, whilst incorporating the application of established research in such a way as to integrate, enhance and advance students’ current embodied practices/experience as professional practitioners. The practice of dancers, teachers, and other related modes of dance practice is at the heart of this programme, which aims to guide students in deepening their understanding of their discipline and advance professional knowledge, and frame it with rigorous research processes that address the practical, artistic, cultural, social and political implications of dance in the sector. The course’s focus on Practice led Enquiry within dance and cognate practices will allow students to place practice and/or career aims at the heart of the enquiry, and draw out embodied, implicit and procedural knowledge, whilst at the same time developing rigorous critical and analytic skill. By this engaging in this process their tacit knowledge will become more explicit and shareable. [Cont...]

[Continued]	The course will facilitate the development and deepening of insights and understanding of dance as a practice and a cultural phenomenon, with the aim of advancing the development of Reflexive Practice as a desirable skill in professionals working in elite dance companies and schools, and as a means of enhancing practice in the mainstream sector. Through the interplay between practice interrogation and more traditional forms of research, students will be able to make valuable connections within their field, leading to transformation of their knowledge boundaries. Graduates of this programme will develop skills in Practice led Enquiry processes, which will lead to: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• The development of confidence in their own scholarly voice as practitioner-researchers• The understanding of the modes of sharing within dance practice• the development and enhancement of the ability to identify and interpret implicit meanings embedded in their practice.• The ability to undertake varied research and development processes as well as critical analysis of both personal work and that of others.• The identification and communication of relevant evidence and ideas of and about dance in the 21st century across a range of dance practices, and a range of specialist and non-specialist audiences.• Both the advancement of the individual’s expert embodied understanding of dance that will enhance critique in the production of original work, develop new ways of working in their chosen area of practice, and generate valuable insights and knowledge for the benefit of dance, the arts and society. The course aims to offer a bespoke scholarly opportunity within a professional context that is tailored to the learners’ individual practice in dance. It is designed to embrace a wide range of research interests within the dance profession (e.g., dancer, rehearsal director, lecturer/teacher, community practitioner, dance maker). The course is offered on a part-time basis to accommodate professional working schedules and allow for the gradual deepening of dance related practices. The course is designed to be flexible and meet the needs of students who are learning whilst working, and students can choose from a mixture of in-person and online delivery as best suits their needs.

[Continued]	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Peer learning, through discussions and active participation with peers. • Lectures and seminars which invite speakers to ask challenging questions as they deliver their presentation to facilitate deeper deliberation on the content of the seminar/lecture. • Seminars and guided workshops led by tutors and students which are designed to experiment with a variety of research strategies and cross-disciplinary understandings. Seminars will entail research methodology and contextual framework sessions suitable for post-graduate study that will facilitate the development of critical thinking and research skills. • Research Intensives (weekend workshops or intensives) focusing on project-led development of practice-led research strategies to accommodate the fact that often in innovative Practice Led Enquiry projects appropriate research strategies need to be developed in situ. Intensives may also take the form of week-long or weekend cluster of sessions on a particular module. • Student-led research seminars and workshops: Workshops will include Practice Research experimentation, development of original ideas in a studio environment, sharing of Practice Research work (with Critique). • Open discussion groups. • One-to-one mentoring: mentoring will be provided to each individual on the basis of their current professional engagement (Dancer, Teacher, Rehearsal Director etc) and this will include working with the student in-situ and developing practice. • Online delivery – all sessions on this course will be recorded and available and some will be streamed to allow for remote engagement with this MA course. • Teaching, Learning and Assessment strategies will be focused according to the specific professional practice of the individual students and promote inclusivity with regards to the specific practice (performance, education, directing) and dependent on any potential learning needs. Proactive adjustments dependent on individual needs of learners will be implemented in order to ensure parity of experience. • A Personal Learning Plan (PLP) will be negotiated with each student on the basis of their research and practice led enquiry interests and include mutually agreed project outcomes and links to the specific module learning outcomes. This will facilitate student agency and identify the focus of the individual learner's aims in undertaking this course.
WORKLOAD (CONTACT HOURS & SELF-STUDY) (Continues on next page)	The MA Dance Research for Professional Practitioners assumes 1800 notional learning and teaching hours with average contact time of 15-40 hours per module (dependent on the credit value of each module - please refer to individual module specifications to determine precise number of hours per module). [Cont...]

[Continued]	This mode of delivery also requires a strong commitment by the student and the motivation to conduct independent and self-directed study, and to engage in advanced reflective practice within their given discipline and professional context. Note on professional engagement and/or experience: Study on the programme embraces the current or recent working practice of the student. Students on this programme will ideally have accrued professional experience in their field of dance (or cognate) practice of 3 years. This programme has a directed focus on professional practice, where the student's working experiences within the sector are the basis for their individual Practice Led Enquiry and research. Bespoke Assessment Strategies Due to the nature of the delivery of the course students will be engaging in a variety of methods to frame and focus their research. Each module serves as different opportunity to advance their learning, writing, and execution of their research as a dance practitioner. Consequently, the method of assessment allows for a range of platforms. Working with their mentor and lecturers the students will be advised of a range of formats, including: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Written Assignment • Reflective Journal • Verbal Presentation • Video/media Presentation • Live Performance • Choreographic Process Reflection • Viva In addition to formal assessment of essays, research projects, written work and portfolios, assessment strategies will include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • peer-assessment • self-assessment and critique • collaborative (student/lecturer) assessment Assessment methods will also include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • short research experiments (practical or theoretical) • reflective reports • professional portfolios • essays • presentations • lecture demonstrations • teaching/rehearsal demonstrations
